RWBY and Super Smash Brothers Crossover Challenge

A/N: I was originally going to do this myself when I had less stories to deal with, but then I decided that this is an idea that should not be left to wait. So I'm putting it out there as a challenge for anyone who wants to take it. I only hope that whoever takes this idea has a decent understanding of both RWBY and Super Smash Brothers, and writes it well.

Now then, here's the challenge:

Title: (Couldn't think of anything. Kinda hoping whoever takes this can come up with a decent title)

(Note: cover image must relate to crossover, either for RWBY or Super Smash Brothers.)

Summary: Four years after the events of Volume 3, Salem and her pawns have been defeated. But the witch has found another way: team up with the powerful Ganondorf to rule all. Jaune follows after her and gets wrapped up in the Smash Bros Tournament. Can the knight win this tournament and stop the power couple? And how did he garner the attention of a literal Goddess?

Pairing(s): Jaune/Palutena and Ganondorf/Salem

AN: And that's about it. To be honest, I was stuck between pairing Jaune with either Palutena or Bayonetta, but I figured the latter would be better suited as a teasing temptress rather than a love interest, someone to piss off Palutena when she goes near her man. Besides, Pyrrha has been referred to as the Goddess of Victory. And since she's out of the picture (which still makes me sad), why not have a _literal_ Goddess take her place as Jaune's love interest?

I hope this is left in good hands. One thing's for sure, I'll definitely read it.

Either review or PM me that you want to take the challenge and to ask any questions in regards to it. After thatâ€¦go to town on it.

I'll be posting two other challenges after thisâ€¦like literally right after. If this challenge isn't your cup of tea, look to the other two.

LATERS!

End
